Wow! I don't know where to start, but long story short my friend that was in the hospital with ACUTE LEUKEMIA is now at home (praise GOD). I gave him 4 bottles of Re:Plenish (Heartland Select) over the course of a month and his white blood cells have come up to the point where he is now at home and cancer in remission. I just spoke with him earlier and we are getting together tomorrow to get him set up on autoship. He feels like between the Juice and a lot of Prayer, God is giving him another chance. You know I don't know what it is going to take for America to realize what we have with Re:Plenish (Heartland Select), but for those that listen, read the science, and understand what Re:Plenish (Heartland Select) can do for the Human body will definitely benefit. If I don't do anything else with this great company...Vollara... I feel better knowing that I have possibly saved a dear friend from leaving this earth before his time! Once again I want to thank God for the works that have been done!

J.K.,

Everything is still going good with my friend and he is now a Vollara dealer receiving his RE:Plenish. His white blood cells continue to rise especially after he had his chemo treatments. He is currently undergoing chemo now to do a bone marrow transplant in the near future to help prevent the cancer from ever coming back, but he is drinking 6oz of Replenish a day and his white blood cells bounce back pretty quick after the treatments. Thank the Lord and Replenish for his remission! You may spread the word!
