

Was Vollara LivingWater worth buying?

My Life in 2009

	Vehicle expense	Cost after insurance
1. Left side clavicle surgery. 8 trips	$192	$180
2. Personal extended Care/Dr. visits. 4 trips	96	120
3. Lortab/oxycodone - $20 every 10 days 38 trips	912	740
4. Spinal tap – 2 trips	48	226
5. Physical therapy – 2 visits weekly 104 trips	2,496	3,120
6. Misc. Dr. visits – 3 visits 3 trips	72	90
	$3,816	$4,476	TOTAL $8,292

PLUS: Immobilizing pain, numbed senses, sleepless nights, depression, living in a fog, unknown kidney and liver damage.

YES IT WAS!!!

My life in 2010

I purchased my LivingWater in April of 2010. Prior to LivingWater I drank about a gallon or more of tap and bottled water everyday for the last 25 years. I started drinking 8.5 LivingWater, about 160 oz. per day in April, 2010. I started telling a difference within 3 days (that's what blew my mind – thinking this was probably snake oil). After 10 days I stopped taking Lortab/oxycodone. Moved to 9.0 LivingWater, then moved to 9.5 LivingWater within 2 weeks. I now drink 176 oz. per day which is about 90% of my weight (194 lbs) in ounces of LivingWater. Here are the results:

1. I don't take Lortab/oxycodone anymore.
2. No more physical therapy.
3. No more Spinal taps.
4. Walk, run, sleep and live without pain.
5. Get up once a night to go to the bathroom versus 7 or 8 times before LivingWater.
6. Lost 12 pounds by drinking 176 oz. of LivingWater daily.
7. I can now run up a flight of stairs.
8. Mow my own yard.
9. Use my left hand and arm without using my right arm to help move it.
10. Eat hot peppers again. I missed them so bad.
11. I don't have dry eyes anymore, no more liquid tears.
12. Have a steady heartbeat, no more arrhythmia.
13. I can now hold my wife and granddaughter (priceless).
14. Canceled left shoulder replacement.
15. My brother saw me walking with a cane in Dec. 2009. Then he saw me again in May 2010, thinking I would be in a wheelchair, and was blown away to see me running and playing with my 3 year old granddaughter.
16. My physical therapist is now drinking LivingWater.

Mike Wiygul, Birmingham, AL